What the community said:

"After each shot I became quiet, slow and docile. Never experienced a rush or up" (Methamphetamine)

"Person experienced some expected effects - feeling high, energetic, then felt "woozy", got extremely red in the face, vomited repeatedly and passed out" (Cocaine)

"Bought cocaine but effects were more like bad ketamine"

"In my local region of Capricornia, there is an increased amount of crystal being cut with Fentanyl. It makes you sleepy, nauseous, you get migraines, vomiting. The come down is so much worse."

"Felt more like it was an anti-psychotic or something - the person had tingles and spasms in their arms and legs similar to what they experience with seroquel or Nozanene" (Benzos)

"People reporting ice use in Brisbane locations that feels like it's an opiate or antipsychotic - taking ice and going on the nod or vomiting. 3 friends have reported this to Peer Qnect - 1 was hospitalised due to vomiting, headache and weird tingly sensation in arms and legs."
